IWASA JR., HENRY K., 75 passed away peacefully at his home in Kaimuki on Saturday February 16, 2013. Retired from the University of Hawaii at Manoa as an educational specialist in the Hawaiian Language, Arts, and Culture Department he was also a contract writer for the State Foundation of Culture and the Arts. His vocation reflected his passion for those things in life which though hard to quantify surely make life beautiful. His kindness and generosity towards The Friends of Iolani Palace, The Friends of the Royal Hawaiian Band, Hawaii Public Radio, The Hawaii Literary Arts Council and most recently Kahumanu Café in Waianae and to other 'na mea Hawaii' (things hawaiian) to name a few has enriched us all and gave meaning to his life. Henry was also a member of the Kaimuki Neighborhood board and because of his involvement the area maintains its homely charm much as it did when Henry was growing up. He never tired of describing the Honolulu of his younger days at Aliiolani Elementary, Stevenson Middle School, Roosevelt High School and The University of Hawaii at Manoa where he majored in Political Science. He was a staff writer on the Ka Leo Newspaper. Those formative years and the inspiration from certain fondly remembered family, friends and teachers prepared him well for the many years that he lived in New York. Henry was in his element not only as a graduate student at Columbia University and later as a foreign student admissions officer but as a denizen of Manhattan more specifically 'the Village' and all that the Big Apple of the '60s and '70s had to offer. To quote Mame Dennis Burnside AKA 'Auntie Mame' from the eponymous movie as she lugs the frumpy Agnes Gooche up a staircase (inside joke), 'Life is a banquet and most poor suckers are starving to death. You have to live, live, live'! And Henry certainly did live. But if New York was the hors d'oeuvre then France was the entree and all that comes after. Simply said Henry loved France. Armed with the latest Guide Michelin and a gaelic fluency which he credited to his most cherished friend (you know who you are), Henry 'did' the country from Left Bank Paris to Calvados in Normandy and Mont St. Michel down to the Loire Valley to Vichy and hence to Auvergne, Languedoc, Marseilles, Provence and wherever else the rented Citroen traversed to. There would be many more french kilometers before and after his return to Hawaii in order to care for his mother and uncle and despite his distant meanderings he secretly appreciated being a 'local boy'. So before he leaves come celebrate his life on Sunday 24 March beginning at 12 noon at the house. No flowers. Contributions may be made to one's own passion. There will be private services another day. [Honolulu Star-Advertiser 20 March 2013]

She was 91 years young and left 2 sisters: Jane Nakabayashi and Thelma Akau; 2 brothers: Setsuo and Satoru Izutsu; a number of nieces and nephews; grand nieces and nephews; and great grand nieces and nephews, along with countless friends. She was born on March 5, 1922 in Makaweli, Kauai. She lived with her family at Camp Six where her father managed the plantation store. She was a proud graduate of Mid Pacific Institute in Honolulu, and an accomplished alumna at the University of Hawaii at Manoa with a degree in education. She was a teacher with the Territory and State Department of Education and a life-long educator and learner. She was a recipient of two (2) Fullbright Scholarships to Japan to study educational television at NHK and flower arranging at the Ikenobo School in Kyoto. She was a student of the Koto and practiced the arts of ikebana, chano-yu, calligraphy, sewing, the Celtic harp, and handmade paper crafts. Sats was a consummate traveler that always sought new journeys and adventures often by herself. She treasured all her friends and acquaintances and was devoted to her family and Christ the Lord. As she did not have her own children, her nieces and nephews were blessed to have Auntie Sats as a second mother. She was a stable presence who kept the family fabric intact. We appreciate all those who have taken Sats into their hearts and lives. In the event of her passing, she wished for a small family service. Yet, we know that she would want all of you to think of her without grieving, for her spirit will live in all of us. With sincere appreciation the family thanks all who have shared special moments with our dear Sats. With love and thanks – the family of Satsuki Izutsu. [Honolulu Star-Advertiser 6 October 2013]
