HALFF, DR. ALBERT HENRY, passed on March 25, 2013, at his home on Kaua'i, in Hawaii. He was 97 years young. He was born in Midland, Texas on August 20, 1915, to Henry Mayer Halff, a prominent West Texas rancher, and Rosa Wechsler Halff. He was the youngest of four children. His siblings were Hal, Ernestine, and Betty. He attended the San Marcos Academy and the New Mexico Military Institute as a young man. He moved to Mineral Wells and then Dallas with his parents, and attended the School of Engineering at Southern Methodist University. After his graduation in 1937, he earned a Master's Degree at the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago in 1940. There he met and married, after a six-week courtship, Lee Catherine Benson. The couple moved to Kingsville, Texas, where Albert taught at Texas A&I College. He served with distinction as an officer in the U.S. Army Air Corps during World War II, primarily in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, where he was in charge of a malaria control project. His first son, Henry, was born in 1942. After the war, Albert taught at S.M.U., and then attended The Johns Hopkins University, where he earned his Ph.D. in Civil Engineering. His son Bro was born in 1946. In 1950, Albert founded a consulting engineering firm, with partner Allen Hundley. Soon thereafter, Albert established on his own Albert H. Halff Associates. He led the firm until his semi-retirement in 1986. He remained active in the firm as chairman emeritus until his death. His fellow engineers and he grew the firm from a one-man company to the largest independent consulting engineering firm in Texas. Halff Associates, under Albert's leadership, became a pioneer in environmental engineering, flood plain management and wastewater disposal. Albert was active in the American Society of Civil Engineers and Toastmasters. He was a great philanthropist, donating generously to universities, other schools, and many charitable organizations. He was an active member of the First Unitarian Church of Dallas, and, in his later years, the Community Unitarian Universalist Church of San Antonio. After his retirement, Albert moved to San Diego with his wife Lee. Before her passing, they shared sixty-four years, in an inspiring bond of love and friendship. After Lee's demise in 2004, Albert made his home in San Antonio and on Kaua'i, spending time with his two sons and their families there. He travelled extensively, including trips to South America, Europe, Asia, Australia, and around the world. As recently as the summer of 2012, he travelled in Europe. Albert became an accomplished artist in his later years, creating watercolors with brilliant colors and bold designs. He also swam competitively, and won three events in a swim meet in Hawaii on the weekend before he passed. Albert was a visionary, with a deep commitment to innovation in engineering and creative thought in all fields. He had an abiding faith in, and love of, people. He expressed that love in his work, his friendships with others, and his boundless commitment to help others in any way that he could. Albert had a wonderful sense of humor, and took great joy in learning about the lives of all whom he met. Albert leaves behind a legacy of love, service, and faith in the basic goodness of humankind. Albert is survived by his two sons, Henry and Bro; his daughter-in-law, Jean; and a grandson, Larry. Services will be at the First Unitarian Church of Dallas on 4015 Normandy Ave Dallas, TX 75205 at 3:00 PM on Tuesday, April 2, and subsequently on Kaua'i. Memorials may be sent to the S.M.U School of Engineering, The Johns Hopkins University's Wilmer Eye Institute, or any charity that is dear to those who knew Albert. Details of the service on Kaua'i will be published in The Garden Island in April. [Honolulu Star-Advertiser 31 March 2013]

HANNEMANN, FAIASO CECILIA DALE TITI, passed away peacefully on June 2, 2013 at Pali Momi Medical Center at the age of 72. Titi, as she was known to her family and friends, was the eldest daughter of the late Gustav and Faiaso Soliai Hannemann. She was born in Fasito’o, Western Samoa on November 29, 1940. When her family emigrated to Hawaii in 1953, Titi attended public schools and was a proud ’59 graduate of Farrington High School. Because she was determined to help her parents and her family, she sought employment right out of high school and worked throughout her adult life, developing a reputation for being a tireless and dedicated worker, like her father. She grew up in an LDS household and faithfully served in many callings and positions in her church. Family and honoring one's parents were of paramount importance to Titi. Her favorite Biblical scripture was, "Honor thy father and thy mother..." (Exodus 20: 12) In fact, she dutifully took care of her dad for several years after her mother passed away in 1973. She inherited her mom's talent as an excellent cook and baker and enjoyed making her loved ones happy with her culinary skills. She also had a deep affinity for her Samoan culture as she was extremely well versed in the customs and traditions of the Fa'a Samoa, which pleased her parents and her maternal grandfather, the late Paramount Chief Pinemua Muliufi Soliai. At many functions, Titi would be asked to perform a beautiful siva that was always a big hit with the audience. The loves of her life were her daughter Ata and her granddaughter Titinia Billie. She was totally consumed with their welfare and well-being and had high hopes for them. Titi was also an active and passionate supporter of her siblings and her nieces and nephews' activities. Known as the "rock" of her family, Titi could always be counted on to be there to cheer them on at a sporting event, church or cultural activity, school or community function and political campaigns. Her physical challenges did not prevent her from contributing to these special and precious moments. And if you were lucky, she would show up with her popular homemade delicacies that would make everyone happy. Bringing love, joy and support to our lives is what we will miss about her. Manui'a Lou Malaga Titi! Funeral services are set for Tuesday, June 11 at Honolulu Hawaii West Stake Center at 1723 Beckley St in Kalihi. Viewing is at 8:30 am with the service to follow at 10 am. Burial will take place at Laie Cemetery at 2:30 pm where she will be laid to rest next to her father Gustav." [Honolulu Star-Advertiser 9 June 2013]

Heen Jr., Ernest Nalani "Juggie", June 3, 2013 Ernest Nalani "Juggie" Heen Jr., 82, of Honolulu, a land development consultant and former state representative, and an Air Force veteran, will be remembered in services 9 a.m. Aug. 8 at Oahu Cemetery & Crematory. He was born in Honolulu. He is survived by sons Temujine, Tai Chung, Pono and Ainoa; daughter Tandra; brother Walter; sister Marion Shim; 11 grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren. Online condolences: oahucemetery.org. [Honolulu Star-Advertiser 30 July 2013]

HEEN JR., ERNEST NALANI JUGGIE, the son of Ernest Nalani Heen, Sr., and Jeannette Kahuoi Hanapi, was born on August 31, 1930, and expired on July 1, 2013. He was known to a wide range of friends and acquaintances as “Juggie,” a nickname he acquired as a young lad. Juggie is survived by four sons, Temujine, Tai Chung, Pono, and Ainoa, and one daughter, Tandra (Malia). After his discharge from the Air Force in 1956, Juggie received “on the job training” in real estate development and sales from his father. Juggie’s knowledge and application of real estate principles, practices, and law attracted the attention of Centex Trousdale, Corp., which hired him to assist them with the development of the lands of Kaneohe Ranch, Ltd. After his success in developing the neighborhoods of Pikoiloa, Kapunahala, and Aikahi Park, Centex made Juggie the overseer of their development of Ahuimanu Valley in Windward O`ahu. Acting for Centex, and with the participation of the Dillingham Corporation and the City and County of Honolulu, Juggie utilized the State Improvement District Statutes to construct the Kahekili Highway, which afforded direct access to Kahalu`u, through Ahuimanu. With Kahekili’s completion, the previously landlocked area was opened for development: the state was able to construct the Windward Community College, and Centex had the opportunity to develop the lands of Ahuimanu Valley. The valley was transformed from an isolated area that had been zoned for industrial use to a vibrant neighborhood community of mixed uses: residential, apartment, commercial and open recreation. Old timers of the valley consider its transformation a monument to Juggie’s ingenuity. In the mid-1960’s as a member of the House of Representatives representing Windward O`ahu, Juggie was directly instrumental in providing succor to needy citizens through legislation requiring insurance companies to cover the cost of chiropractic treatment, and in promulgating the state’s Temporary Disability Insurance Program. Juggie has always “swum against the current” of public opinion regarding exercise of individual rights and most recently championed the right of “death with dignity.” Indeed, Juggie’s very passage is his testament in support of the principle that people should be allowed to decide for themselves how they shall leave the community. He maintained that principle to the end and never, “winced nor cried aloud.” (William Ernest Henley) Juggie is also survived by seven grandchildren, three great grandchildren, his sister, Marion Heen Shim, and his brother, Walter. Final services will be held on August 8, 2013, at 9:00 a.m., at Oahu Cemetery on Nu`uanu Ave. [Honolulu Star-Advertiser 30 July 2013]

Frances was born July 10, 1926 in Newton, North Carolina, the youngest of three children to the late Frances Shrum Abernethy and Julius Whitner Abernethy. After graduating from Newton/Conover High School in 1944, she continued her education at Stephens College in Columbus, Missouri, where she majored in merchandising, receiving an Associate of Arts degree in 1946. While at Stephens College, she also earned her Private Pilot's License, becoming the first woman from Catawba County, North Carolina to do so. She next attended Catawba College in Salisbury, NC, majoring in business and earning a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1948. In 1947, Frances married John Dempsey Huitt whom she had known since the first grade. They moved to Winston-Salem, NC, starting a family while Dempsey continued his medical training. In 1955, with four young children, they moved to Hawaii to complete Dempsey's residency in Pediatrics and had their fifth child. The joys of island living changed what was to be a two year stay into a lifetime and in 1960 they moved to the windward side of Oahu making Kailua their permanent home. In addition to raising five children, Frances engaged in many church activities, including being a member of the Women's Missionary Union and ministering to inmates at local prison facilities. Her passionate faith in Christ led her in 1975 to open the Agape Shoppe in Kailua, a store specializing in Christian books and gifts. Frances touched many lives through her ministry at the Agape Shoppe continuing to faithfully and lovingly manage the shop until her passing. She had a joyous, colorful character, embracing the Spirit of Aloha infused with Southern hospitality, always taking time to talk story with shop patrons. Frances was preceded in death by her husband, Dr. John Dempsey Huitt, her daughter, Kathryn Rosendahl, her sister, Lura Abernethy Rader, and her brother, J. W.
