MATTHEWS, ALBERT ALAPAKI, he passed away one year ago on Valentine’s Day, 2012 in San Diego, California where he lived for the last 35 years of his life. He was born in Honolulu on December 17 to Edith R. Mueller, but was raised for the most part in Nanakuli by his great-aunt, Alice C. Reid, the principal at Nanaikapono Elementary School. When he was a teenager, his mother married Gabriel Ah Loy Akana, our beloved grandpa. Dad graduated from University High School and went on to receive a degree in Hotel and Restaurant Management from City College of San Francisco and a Business Management degree from the University of Hawaii. In 1959, he married the love of his life, Eunice A. Hiapo, and began a family that eventually included five children. He managed restaurants for the Spencecliff Corporation and worked as a night auditor at the Kaiser Hawaiian Village before joining the Honolulu Police Department in 1960. While on the force, he walked the beat in Waikiki, drove a motorcycle with a sidecar (which fascinated his children), patrolled in an unmarked vehicle with a blue light he slapped on the roof when needed (which also fascinated his children), trained JPO’s at schools around the island (his most favorite job assignment), and worked in the licensing department. In 1968, he changed careers, becoming Patient’s Credit Manager at Castle Memorial Hospital. In 1973, our family moved to the Big Island, where he became the administrator of the Hilo Care Center. In 1976, he took his family on the adventure of a lifetime – a year-long trip in a motorhome around the mainland – before settling down in San Diego where he worked at Paradise Valley Hospital until retirement. While growing up and living in Hawaii, Dad’s life was touched by so many people whose names we don’t know, but Dad knew, and he never ever forgot you. Mahalo to the families that shared their dinner table with a hungry little boy, to the teachers and camp counselors that took an interest in him, to his high school friends whom he dearly loved (Alan Masagatani, especially), to his Seventh-day Adventist church family in Kaimuki, Waipahu, Waimanalo, and Hilo; to his fellow officers that backed him up and saved his bacon at times, to his good friends at Castle, to the dedicated workers that helped him open the Care Center, and to all the others that made Hawaii home for him. God bless you all. Contact Al’s family: <http://www.hiapoohana.com/contact-us.php>. [Honolulu Star-Advertiser 17 February 2013]

MILLER, WILLIAM (BILL) STEPHEN, of Honolulu, Hawaii passed away on July 5, 2013 at his home in Honolulu. Bill was born October 24, 1949 in Huntington Park, California to Hazel and Lawrence Miller. He graduated from Huntington Park High School as Senior Class President and received the B'nai B'rith award for outstanding student. He graduated from the University of California at Santa Barbara in 1971, cum laude, and Hastings College of the Law in San Francisco in 1974 where he was a member of the Hastings Law Review. Bill practiced law with the Honolulu law firm Goodsell Anderson Quinn & Stifel for 25 years. He successfully litigated professional malpractice, products liability and insurance bad faith claims, major contract disputes, real estate, title insurance matters, and construction disputes. He was a member of the California and Hawaii Bar Associations and was listed in the "Best Lawyers" Directory, widely regarded as a significant honor, conferred on a lawyer by his or her peers. He also served on the Board of Directors for Mothers Against Drunk Driving. Although Bill had a full career, he always found time for his other loves — music, sports, and books. He was a proud member of the Beatles fan club. He hiked the John Muir Trail, paddled a kayak down the Colorado River, and ran several marathons. Bill suffered from hereditary spastic paraplegia, a rare disease which causes progressive weakness in the legs, for which there is no cure. But this did not stop Bill from enjoying his favorite sport, swimming. Even in the late stages of his disorder he would have his caregiver bring him to a pool in Hawaii Kai for a swim. Bill's collection of books was eclectic and vast, from How to Make Money in the Stock Market to Stephen Hawking's A Brief History of Time. Above all, Bill's one true love in life was his daughter, Julia. Bill is survived by his daughter Julia Miller of Los Angeles, California, his nephew John Randolph of Hanover, New Hampshire and his sister Marilyn Randolph of Pasadena, California. A memorial service will be held on August 20, 2013 at The Outrigger Canoe Club at 5:30 PM. In lieu of flowers, a donation may be made to the Spastic Paraplegia Foundation, 7700 Leesburg Pike, Suite 123, Falls Church, VA 22043 <http://www.sp-foundation.org/donate-now/>. MOELZER, WILLI FRANZ, chose Death With Dignity on November 23, 2013 in Eugene, Oregon. He had a joyful and peaceful passage, surrounded by his wife, cats and many friends. Willi's early years were spent in war-torn Germany. His graduation from merchant marine school set him on a path to explore all corners of the world and the many cultures to be found there. This gave him a worldly perspective that he later applied to all his activities. After four years of sailing the wide seas, he immigrated to the United States, where he eagerly applied himself to working full-time and learning English in night school. When Uncle Sam asked him to serve his new country, he remembered how kind and helpful the American liberators had been after the war and he gladly joined the U. S. Army. Willi's service in the Vietnam War enabled him to apply his education benefits to obtaining a college degree and a teacher's certification at the University of Hawaii. It was there that he met and married his wife, Janet Nickell. Willi spent 23 years teaching at Roosevelt High School in Honolulu – years that brought him great joy and numerous accolades. His immense enthusiasm and boundless energy drew scores of students to his German classes. Added to that was the German club (the Buggabuggers), which furthered the German culture through singing, German and international folk dancing, and putting on Oktoberfests. He helped students organize hikes, campouts, picnics, car washes, candy sales, and more. For over ten years, all of this was topped off with annual summer trips to Europe – to practice the German language, learn the cultures of Europe, and become independent, self-sufficient people (and later, adults). When educational and demographic changes caused the discontinuation of many language courses, Willi's lively teaching skills were turned to bringing history to life for his students. The retirement years brought a greater emphasis on the water sports Willi always loved. This included scuba diving, bodyboard surfing, kayaking, wave kayak surfing, windsurfing, and sailing (for which he built his own unique sailboat). While doing this he continued teaching others: novices learned how to develop those skills and fellow surfers learned about history, politics and international affairs. Willi and Janet left Hawaii in 2010 to retire in Eugene, OR, where Janet's parents lived. Eugene proved to be a warm and welcoming environment where they developed very close friends. Unfortunately, Willi's unique genetic disorder became active and shortened his life prematurely. Of all the praise Willi got through the years, the most important to him were the recent letters from former students of overwhelming appreciation for the impact he made on their lives. Letters acknowledging him as the "best teacher EVER," "Your zest for teaching and passion for students was unparalleled," "Your crazy enthusiasm sent many of us into fulfilling lives and careers," "You gave us confidence, you gave us skills, you gave us the knowledge that we were GOOD ENOUGH for anything," "You taught us how to raise our consciousness, empower ourselves with self-confidence, and act with purpose," "You were without a doubt the best teacher and life advisor I could ever have and I thank you for that." Willi was an extraordinary teacher of life for everyone he met, including to the day of his death. He was an inspirator and lived life to the fullest. He was greatly loved and will be greatly missed. Enjoy your cosmic eternity, my love! Willi is survived by his brother, Klaus, his sisters, Herma and Ellen, and his wife Janet.
