PAEKUKUI, DIANA IWALANI HAMOCON (MRS. P), It's been a year, we miss you every day. We love you forever. (Paekukui Ohana) You can shed tears that she is gone, or you can smile because she has lived. You can close your eyes and pray that she'll come back, or you can open your eyes and see all she's left. Your heart can be empty because you can't see her, or you can be full of the love you shared. You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday, or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday. You can remember her only that she is gone or you can cherish her memory and let it live on. You can cry and close your mind, be empty and turn your back. Or you can do what she'd want: Smile, open your eyes, love and go on. -David Harkins. [Honolulu Star-Advertiser 28 December 2012]

PECK, JOAN, long time O’ahu North Shore resident Joan Boardman Peck died on Thursday, October 18, 2012, after a long decline following a stroke two years ago. Joan was born on January 16, 1924, in Sterlington outside of Monroe, Louisiana, where she still has many loving friends. Joan graduated from Neville High School and was an alumna of The University of Wisconsin with a degree in Engineering before marrying her handsome Air Force pilot, Fred Peck. They traveled the world together during his military career and developed deep friendships everywhere they went, but decided to return to Hawai’i, where they lived here the rest of their lives, after Fred retired from his last duty assignment at Wheeler Air Force Base in 1967. Adventurous and outgoing, she was also kind and giving. Joan led her life dedicated to the needs and support of others. She loved to travel and was always the first one to explore a new foreign neighborhood, leading the charge up a hill or splashing into the ocean, bayou or river. She loved to play golf, bridge and mahjong with friends and while she was healthy, she swam daily with her beloved dog, Carmichael, and the North Shore sea turtles. She was a gracious hostess whose doors were always open to family, friends, and civic, church and fraternal organizations. Joan was widely known and appreciated through her many social activities on the North Shore, and at one time was referred to in the North Shore News as “the ever-smiling Mrs. Peck.” She was most dedicated to the Olive United Methodist Church in Wahiawa, where she served as the Sunday School Superintendent for over 20 years. She also served as a volunteer poll worker on elections in Haleiwa for decades, and on occasion was a tutor and substitute teacher at Haleiwa and Waiialua Schools. The North Shore Republican Party met on her lanai at her lovely home for many years, but this dyed-in-the-wool lifelong Republican voted for Hawai’i’s Favorite Son in her last vote cast. Joan took pride in her work with The Freedom Foundation, interviewing youth from across the State of Hawai’i and chaperoning them on annual trips to Washington, D.C. and the Liberty Bell. Joan also served in several offices of the North Shore Outdoor Circle, and took particular pride in the organization's role in removing obstructions to the view of the ocean along Kamehameha Highway. She was a lioness in the Waialua Lions Club. She was a founding member and actively served in several offices in the National Society of The Colonial Dames of America in The State of Hawai'i, and, earlier this year, she was awarded the title of "Honorary State President for Life" of the Colonial Dames XVII Century in recognition for valuable service since 1966. She was a member of the DAR, Chi Omega Alumni Association, Friends of Waialua Library, Waialua Hospital Auxiliary and the Waialua Community Center. Joan was preceded in death by her parents Clark C. and Ethel M. Boardman, husband Col. Fred R. Peck in 1999 and brother Grant C. (Buddy) Boardman (Fort Worth, Texas) in 2010. She is survived by her daughter, Diane Peck Ray and son-in-law Scoll Ray, both of Haleiwa and New Orleans, sister-in-law Maxine Boardman (Fort Worth), niece Barbara Boardman (Salt Lake City) and her brothers Cal (Salt Lake City) and Clint (Fort Worth) and their spouses and children, and Cousins Anne Wilbur (Alaska) and Paul and Lorie La Page (Honolulu). She is survived by sister-in-law Jane Peck, niece Christie and her brothers Kevin, Aldrich, and David and their spouses and children (California) and nieces Susan Crenshaw and Leslie Farrington and their children (Florida). Services will be held on Saturday, October 27, at the Olive United Methodist Church at 108 California Street in Wahiawa with greetings beginning at 9:30 before the service at 10:00 AM. In lieu of flowers, send donations to the church. [Honolulu Star-Advertiser 24 October 2012]

PETERS, DAVID M., was born August 6, 1923, in Honolulu, the oldest child of Charles Merritt Peters and Mollie Kananipaule Akana Peters. David spent his early years on Maui, with his beloved sister Ione and brother Charles. His father, a military veteran and territorial senator, was the island's first mortician. His mother, who later owned a beauty parlor, was herself a beauty-and the disciplinarian in the family. David was student at the Kamehameha School for Boys beginning in grade 7. He returned to Maui in 1938, and graduated from Maui High School in 1941. David's leadership, commitment and service began early. In high school, he was president of his junior and senior classes and an award-winning orator. He was the first person from Maui to be appointed to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point. In 1946, David graduated from West Point with a B.S. in Engineering and commission as a 2nd Lieutenant in the U.S. Army. Over the next thirty years, he commanded at all tactical levels, including as an Airborne Infantry officer during the Korean War and in Vietnam as a member of the elite Special Forces and later a Battalion Commander. In Germany, he commanded a Brigade on the front lines of the Cold War. Other assignments included senior military assistant to the U.S. commander in Vietnam and the NATO commander in Europe. In his last Army assignment, David led the University of Hawai'i Army ROTC unit as Professor of Military Science. He retired as a Colonel in 1976. Among David's military decorations are the Silver Star for gallantry in action, four Legions of Merit and three Bronze Stars (including one for valor). He graduated from the U.S. Army War College and earned an M.A. in Journalism from the University of Wisconsin. While in the Army, David met and in 1953, married the former Joan Sabin. They had three children, Lauren, David, Jr., and Diane. Joan died in 1986, and David, Jr., in 1988. In 1989, David married Mary Melekahana Awai Kapaona, a Kamehameha graduate, community volunteer and successful businesswomen. David set a shining example as a loving husband, father and grandpa. After retirement from the Army, David served the people of Hawai'i for another three-plus decades. Working until 1990 as Executive Assistant to U.S. Senator Daniel K. Inouye, David ran the Senator's Honolulu office and helped countless constituents. In 1978, David became a Trustee of the Queen Lili'uokalani Trust, serving for 29 years, including ten as Chairman. During his tenure, the Trust expanded the number of orphaned and destitute children served, built new facilities, and solidified its strong financial base. A strong and active community leader, David helped to found Alu Like. He served on many boards, including the Office of Hawaiian Affairs Education Foundation and Hawai'i Army Museum. He was a member of the Royal Order of Kamehameha I and Hale o Na Ali'i, past president of Prince Kuhi'o Hawaiian Civic Club, and a Rotarian, Scottish Rite Mason, Shriner and Elk. David's many community awards included the Royal Order of Ke Ali'i Pauahi, Native Hawaiian Chamber of Commerce 'O'o Award for Outstanding Public Service, Hawai'i Army Museum 'The Award, and designation by the Prince Kuhi'o Hawaiian Civic Club as a "Cultural Living Treasure." During three, long and successful careers and a lifetime of service, David encouraged, helped and inspired many people. He taught us how to live and love. Pickens, Alexander L., Honolulu Arts Educator and Philanthropist Leaves a Legacy of Fundraising ALEXANDER L. PICKENS, 1921 – 2012 Dr. Alexander L. Pickens, Professor Emeritus, College of Education, University of Hawai‘i at Manoa and former Assistant to the Dean for College Development, passed away peacefully at his home on June 23, 2012. Ardent and longtime supporters of fundraising, Pickens and his wife, Frances established an endowment fund, named the Frances M.J. & Alexander Pickens Scholarship Fund in Secondary Education. Today, the college’s development office is dedicated to him for his work in establishing a successful scholarship program that continues to grow each year. He is survived by his wife Frances, numerous former students, and friends who continue to support the arts in education by giving back to their communities: an attribute he modeled throughout his lifetime in service to others. Beginning his career as a public school teacher, Pickens earned a BA in English from Southern Methodist University, an MA in Art from North Texas State University, and an EdD in Fine Arts from Columbia University. He taught at the University of Michigan and the University of Georgia before settling in Hawai‘i in 1962. An associate professor of art education at the College of Education, Pickens was promoted to full professor in 1969. He would additionally serve as Assistant to the Dean for College Development, a position he helped to create in 1989. Investing his own resources and encouraging others to do the same, Pickens obtained funds to commemorate the college’s 50th anniversary in 1981. He would continue to raise money for scholarships and endowments until his retirement in 2001. “I give because of the need,” Pickens said in a 2011 interview. “From what I have seen over my 39 years with the college, the students are very responsible. Many of them are single parents, most have part-time jobs, and some are supporting parents and grandparents. The College of Education is still very important to me and my wife, and our desire is to support its future.” In 1989, Pickens was honored with a Regents Medal for Excellence in Teaching. Among his numerous other awards and achievements, he was given the Award of Excellence for Commitment and Service to the college’s alumni association in 1996 and the College Benefactor Award in 2008. Throughout his career, Pickens served as an art education consultant who organized, designed, and raised funds for art exhibitions and projects. He worked steadily through summers and spent his sabbatical leaves in the 1970s and 80s researching art history at Yale; conducting Smithsonian Institute study tours in Greece and England; and visiting schools in Morocco, Egypt, and Kenya. Active in the community, Pickens served on the Board of Directors for the Honolulu Theater for Youth from 1997 to 2001 and sat on the Boards of Directors for the Honolulu Symphony from 1998 to 2010 and Chamber Music Hawaii from 2002 to 2012. A celebration of life will be held in Honolulu in mid-August to honor Alex and his accomplishments. Donations in memory of Alexander L. Pickens may be made to:
