Tagalog, Ota Camp leader Pete, 80, died on May 28 at Pali Momi Medical Center after a long illness. Pete, the son of Oahu Sugar Plantation mill worker, helped his Filipino community in Waipahu successfully fight against an eviction in the 1970s and eventually relocate a few miles away to Westloch. Ota Camp included many Filipinos who were retirees living on small pensions or had large families who said they could afford to live nowhere else. Pete not only helped poor and working people in his community, but also shared his experiences and gave hope to other ethnic communities facing similar evictions in Kalihi, Chinatown, and Niumalu-Nawiliwili. He played a key role in supporting a successful sit-in protest at the University of Hawaii to establish an Ethnic Studies Program, focusing on history of minorities in Hawaii. Taira, Mary Teruyo, 84, born a Numazawa, by Territorial records a YAMAMOTO, died June 29. She lived in Wahiawa, Kauai until 1945 after her junior year at Waimea HS. She was like a second mother to her younger siblings. To raise her own 4 children, she worked as a well-respected salesman at Manchester Sterling, then as a realtor. As a young girl, she won an island-wide song contest by KTOH. Called "Canary" in her home plantation camp, she pursued singing and dance all her life. She was active for decades in ballroom dance, bon dance, shinbuyo, and later, hula. Her voice rang out for decades in the Wesley Methodist choir and from atop the yagura tower of the Honolulu Fukushima Bon Dance Club. Her voice is heard publicly as featured in "Musics of Hawaii." Our kind mom had to be strong. Daring even in her 60's and 70's, she braved the autumn waves of Sunset, ate sand at Sandy's, took in the view from Koolau and Waianae summits, and on a jaunt into Haleakala, enjoyed pelting hail and the challenges of the thin atmosphere. Please send cards of remembrance to Mary T. Taira, 801 Ala Nioi Place, Apt. 1002, Honolulu, HI 96818. They will be displayed on occasions for her spirit to read. "Private" assures privacy. Memorial service (aloha attire) at Hosoi Mortuary is on Sunday, August 12 at 3:00 p.m., visitation from 2:00. See coming obituary. [Honolulu Star-Advertiser 5 August 2012]

Tesoro, Richard Pasana, M.D., went to be with the Lord on August 10, 2012 at the age of 74 years. He passed away at home. Richard was born on Maui and raised on Lanai by parents Dionicio and Maura Tesoro. He was the eldest of seven children. As a young man, he developed a hard work ethic from his labor on the pineapple fields. He graduated as valedictorian of Lanai High School, class of 1955 and received a four-year college scholarship from Dole Pineapple Company. He then studied at the University of Hawaii at Manoa and transferred to the University of Oregon where he received a Doctor of Medicine degree. In 1967, he married Adele Caluya of Waipahu whom he met while attending the University of Hawaii. Dr. Tesoro’s life of service began in his youth. Around the age of 7, he sustained a traumatic leg injury. He underwent orthopedic rehabilitation at Shriner’s Hospital where he received compassionate care and overcame his disability. He went on to join the Boy Scouts, excelling to Eagle Scout. As a teenager, Richard saved a fellow scout from drowning at a Scout Jamboree in Lake Tahoe. He was the first in Hawaii to receive the Veterans of Foreign Wars scholarship award for outstanding Boy Scout achievement. This achievement was recognized in a ceremony by Governor Samuel Wilder King and Mayor Neil Blaisdell who honored him with the Key to the City Award. These experiences were early marks of his growing desire to save lives and to serve his community. In 1964, at the age of 28, Dr. Tesoro served as a Captain in the Army in Company D of the 25th Infantry Division’s 25th Medical Battalion in the Vietnam War. He received the Bronze Star Medal for his meritorious service as a medical officer. Upon honorable discharge, Dr. Tesoro co-founded the Medical Arts Clinic in Wahiawa where he served the community until he medically retired in 2010. In the 1970’s, he was the Leilehua Football Team Doctor. As a teaching preceptor, he mentored many UH medical students and was honored with the Family Medicine Preceptor of the Year award from the University of Hawaii John A. Burns School of Medicine in 2002. Dr. Tesoro was an avid spear fisherman with his biggest catch being an 89 pound ulua (which according to “fishing legend”, may have been as large as 130 lbs). He also enjoyed gardening. He was a faithful supporter of UH football, his children’s Iolani athletic events, and of his grandchildren’s various sporting events. His community involvement included his roles as President of the Mililani-Waipio Bobby Sox League, volunteer for the Aloha Medical Missions Clinic, and member of the Mililani Lions Club. He enjoyed spending time with his family, sharing with them his love of sports, gardening, and the ocean. Amidst these many pastimes and interests, his greatest joy was his wife, children, and grandchildren. Dr. Tesoro is survived by his loving wife, Adele; his son Dr. Richard A. Tesoro, DDS (Lani); his daughters Renee Tesoro Dang (Daynon), Dr. Lori Wiley, AuD (Dan), and Michelle Tesoro Tsuruda (Paul); his grandchildren Sage and Blake Tesoro, Makana and Alexis Dang, Justin, Andrew, and Timothy Wiley, and Joseph and Asia Tsuruda; sisters Violet Tabisola (Felix), Marin Patao (Willie), and Jane Smith (Joe); brother Reynaldo Tesoro (Cynthia); and aunt Amelia DeAquino. Torres, Phillip Joaquin, December 30, 1950 – January 31, 2012. Phil, a long-time resident of Point Reyes Station, CA, passed away unexpectedly in his sleep on January 31, 2012. He had just celebrated his 61st birthday, and was looking forward to celebrating his 30th wedding anniversary on March 26th, and his granddaughter Paloma's second birthday in April. Of Azorean descent, Phil was born in Honolulu nine years before statehood, and grew up with his four siblings in Kailua, Oahu. He worked at Pearl Harbor after graduating from Kailua High School in 1969, and later left Hawaii to join the Navy. Phil had previously lived in San Francisco for many years, where he worked at the San Francisco VA Medical Center, and for a number of years, owned and operated a pizzeria. Phil eventually fulfilled his dream of becoming a police officer, and at the age of 41 joined the Fairfax Police Department in Northern California. He loved working with kids and helped many troubled youth turn their lives around. Phil was a dedicated community servant, and also worked as a part-time caretaker for a local cemetery. Phil umpired Little League games, and also coached high school softball and volleyball. He had recently started teaching volleyball skills to elementary school children. Phil leaves behind his wife of almost 30 years, Robyn Torres of Point Reyes Station; daughter and son-in-law Jackie Torres and Nathan Slavik, of West Los Angeles, CA; daughter Mandy Torres of Cotati, CA; mother Jacqueline Azevedo Torres of Kailua, Oahu; sister Bina Torres of Kailua-Kona, Hawaii; brother John (Donna) of Haiku, Maui; brother Patrick (Joan) of Honolulu, Hawaii; brother Daniel (Yvette) of Roanoke, VA; granddaughter Paloma Maria Torres-Slavik of West Los Angeles, CA; numerous nieces and nephews; preceded in death by his father Louis Victor Torres and his father-in-law Ralph Treleven. Although many hearts were broken on the day of his untimely passing, Phil's generous 'aloha' spirit and life-long legacy of helping others will live on forever. Services were held on the mainland on March 24, 2012. A private celebration of Phil's life will be held on Father's Day Sunday June 17, 2012 in Kailua. Donations may be made to a favorite charity in Phil's memory. [Honolulu Star-Advertiser 6 June 2012]
