Survived by sons, Dr. William and Robert; five grandchildren; 10 great-grandchildren. Service 10 a.m. Monday at Hawai'i State Veterans Cemetery. [Honolulu Advertiser 23 January 2010]

Broadbent, Harry Hartwell, passed away December 21, 2009, two months shy of his ninety-seventh birthday. He was born in Sulphur, Okalahoma, the youngest of three brothers. His father was an attorney and two-term state legislator while his mother ran the family farm and provided for the children's religious upbringing. As a young man, Harry flirted with a career in journalism, working as a reporter, a sometime typesetter, and eventually editor for his home-town paper, the Sulphur Times Democrat. He also worked as a correspondent for the Oklahoma City Times and Daily Oklahoma. But it was his prowess in athletics which would lead him to his eventual vocation, as a teacher and coach. During his senior year at the University of Oklahoma, Harry won the NCAA wrestling title at the 174 weight division. His team took the National Championship that year. After college, Harry returned to Sulphur and married his home-town sweetheart, Clairene Ramsey. They were to spend the next 71 years together until her passing in April 2009. With the outbreak of WWII, Harry joined the navy, serving initially as a pre-flight physical education instructor for Navy aviators, then as commander of a home guard gun crew on Liberty ships bound for North Africa and Italy, and finally as a Public Information Officer with the 4th Naval District in Philadelphia. After the war he returned to teaching and coaching at the college level. During his career he headed wrestling programs at the University of Texas, the University of Pennsylvania, Washington and Lee University, and San Diego State University. At some of these postings he also served as an assistant coach in football and track and field. Harry is a member of the Wrestling Hall of Fame and the Washington and Lee Athletics Hall of Fame. After retiring in 1978, Harry and his wife moved to Hawaii to be closer to their sons and grandchildren. Harry is survived by two of his four children, Dr. William A. Broadbent and Robert R. Broadbent; five grandchildren (Dr. Bryan Broadbent, Bradley Broadbent, Robin Dyrensborg, Barbara Meyers, and Harry I. Broadbent) and ten great grandchildren. [Honolulu Star Bulletin 24 January 2010]

Brock, Frank Alvin Jr., Dec. 22, 2009 Frank Alvin Brock Jr., 90, He was born March 7, 1919 in Haskell, New Jersey and raised in the communities of New Brunswick and Highland Park, New Jersey. His parents were Frank Alvin Brock, Sr. and Irene Boerckel Brock. Frank's long life was shaped in part by the struggles, history and events shared by those of his generation. Born the third of five children, he was a gifted athlete mentored and taught by his father whom he called his best friend. Frank's success in sports led to a full scholarship to Rutgers University where he was captain of both the basketball and baseball teams. Because of his leadership and accomplishments in sports and scholastics, Frank was selected for Rutgers' prestigious Cap and Skull honor society. Frank Brock graduated from Rutgers June 8th 1941. That was also the day he married Katherine Ann Steiner. Their 65 years of marriage began that summer with Frank playing Triple-A professional baseball for the Trenton Senators, part of the N.Y. Giants organization, while he waited for his final orders to report to Fort Dix, New Jersey. He entered the Army Air Corps as an enlisted man in August 1941. During his military years he and Katherine were stationed in Albany, Georgia; Laredo, Texas; and Denver, Colorado. First Lieutenant Frank Brock received an honorable discharge in February 1946. Frank entered a management training program with Public Service Electric & Gas Company-New Jersey's oldest and largest publicly owned utility. While a student, he had been a ditch digger for PSE&G. When Frank retired from the company in 1979, he was a senior executive in charge of industrial relations. Despite these accomplishments, without hesitation Frank Brock would cite his greatest personal achievement to be his marriage to the love of his life - Katherine. They met Frank's senior year at New Brunswick High School (1936) and were together until Katherine's passing in 2006. During their marriage they raised their children in the communities of Bound Brook and Glen Ridge, New Jersey. After Frank retired, they lived in Beach Haven, New Jersey and Beaufort, North Carolina. In 2001 they moved to Kaneohe, Hawaii. Surviving are sister Eleanor Myers of Knoxville, Tennessee; brother Alvin Brock of Whiting, New Jersey; son Frank Brock III of Tarpon Springs, Florida; daughter Linda Brock of Kaneohe, Hawaii; two grandchildren, Frank Brock IV and Christine Dery of Florida; two great-grandchildren and hanai-ed son, Max. Frank Brock will be missed by many whose lives he touched in different ways. As one close friend noted, Frank was "...easy to know". Perhaps it was a combination of his outgoing personality and genuine interest in people and the world around him that made Frank a truly authentic man. Frank looked back on his life with few regrets. He said he chose a career in business because he thought that would provide the best financial opportunity for his family. But he would quickly add that he wished he had become a high school history teacher and baseball coach. He enjoyed being around the youthful energy of those many decades younger. In lieu of flowers, friends and family are asked to make a donation in Frank Brock's name to a charity or organization of choice that supports and provides opportunity for young people. A service will be held January 13th 2010 at Hawaiian Memorial Park Chapel in Kaneohe. Visitation 5PM; Service 6PM followed by a reception. Casual attire. [Honolulu Star Bulletin 3 January 2010]
