Tyau, Eleanor Deborah, February 5, 1915 - January 11, 2010, in our short lives there are a few people who touch us in such a special way they become a part of us. They make us better people. Eleanor Tyau was one. To thousands of Saint Louis high school graduates, she was "Mrs. Tyau", a term connoting respect for the competent, hard working cafeteria manager, who literally served them for over 40 years. On a more personal level, she was "Mama Tyau", a nurturing mother figure, attending not only to nutritional needs, but also making growing up a brighter and richer experience. In her own life, growing up was not easy for Eleanor. She was the eldest of seven sisters who lost their father early in life. She taught us hard work, to meet adversity head-on, and to never give up. Within her family, and especially to her 17 nieces and nephews, she was "Aunty Eleanor", the "rock", the emotional anchor, a person who made us feel grounded and secure. Through her everyday actions Eleanor showed us the meaning of caring, generosity, and commitment. In essence, she taught us what it truly meant to be a family. Eleanor would have been 95 on February 5th but she will always live on. To celebrate her birthday and her legacy, her family will gather. We will eat, exchange stories, laugh, cry, and then eat some more because that was Eleanor's way. In the midst of this, we will all be remembering Eleanor in our own special way. We will remember her smile, quick wit, wisdom, humility and dignity. Above all, we will remember her for her gifts that are reflected in each of us - who we are, who we are becoming, and who we want to be. To be like Eleanor will always be something to strive for. Some people, no matter how old they get, never seem to lose their beauty - it just moves from their faces, into their heart, and from their heart, into the lives of others. Eleanor Tyau was one. "Katchi kapshida" (Korean - "we march ahead together") - Eleanor, you will always be with us. [Honolulu Star Bulletin 5 February 2010]
